I am looking for a tutor (hiwi contact, 20h a month) for the winter semester for the class Programming for Computational Linguistics . The main requirement is being fluent in programming in Python and having the ability to explain basic concepts to students without a programming background

The responsibilities include explaining exercises to students and guiding them through the class.

If you are interested , please email me (agnieszka.falenska@ims.uni-stuttgart.de) and send your academic grades until 12.07.2024.

Feel free to write me if you have any questions.

Best regards,
