

29th International Summer University, University of Bremen

Courses and workshops

For female students and professionals

Interdisciplinary field trips

Interactive and explorative learning

Social program and networking

FAQ

Participants female students of all disciplines from all types of universities and educational institutions; women interested in computing; women professionals

Program courses covering various topics from computer science and related interdisciplinary fields; workshops on professional development

Types of courses lectures, workshops, projects, and seminars

Level diverse, ranging from beginner to master

Course length variation of lectures and courses lasting 1-3 days, can be combined individually

Certificates Participation certificates and possibly credit points can be acquired for specific courses

Events field trips, discussions, movie evening, networking

Participation fee for students 60 euros for early registration until July 15th, 2026, and 80 euros for registration until August 15th, 2026

Travel and accommodation are self-organised

Food and beverages cafeteria for free, warm meals can be purchased on campus

Free child care provided by qualified childcare professionals during the entire summer university

Registration via website until August 15th, 2026

More information

Faculty 3: Mathematics and Computer Science

University of Bremen

www.informatica-feminale.de ifmail@uni-bremen.de

